Sandra Peters

About
BY EVE

BY EVE is the brainchild of designer Sandra Peters. A key element of the brand is the use of glass, which is combined with a number of other materials such as wood, metal, etc. The origins of this venture go back to when designer Sandra Peters was looking for a suitable table lamp for her showroom. When she couldn't find what she was looking for, she decided to have a go at creating her own design for a model that would meet her particular needs. And as they say, the rest is history. At this point in 2020, BY EVE is a fully-fledged brand enjoying healthy growth, with an extensive collection that is defined by timeless simplicity and atmosphere.

Each BY EVE lamp is individually crafted using hand-blown glass. The result is a completely unique product each time with no identical versions anywhere. We also use a special colouring process for the glass. Our focus on craftsmanship is a question of common sense: it allows us to create more beautiful and premium quality products, with no visible seams for instance, as opposed to machine made items. They are made with love, and it shows. And yet, in spite of this focus on traditional quality, our products are affordable.

In character, in manner, in style, in all things, the supreme excellence is simplicity.

- Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

Meet our Metallic Smoke lamps. These are the lamps that marked the start of BY EVE and form the first collection that we launched not long after we started our venture and which, with its timeless design, has lost none of its popularity today.

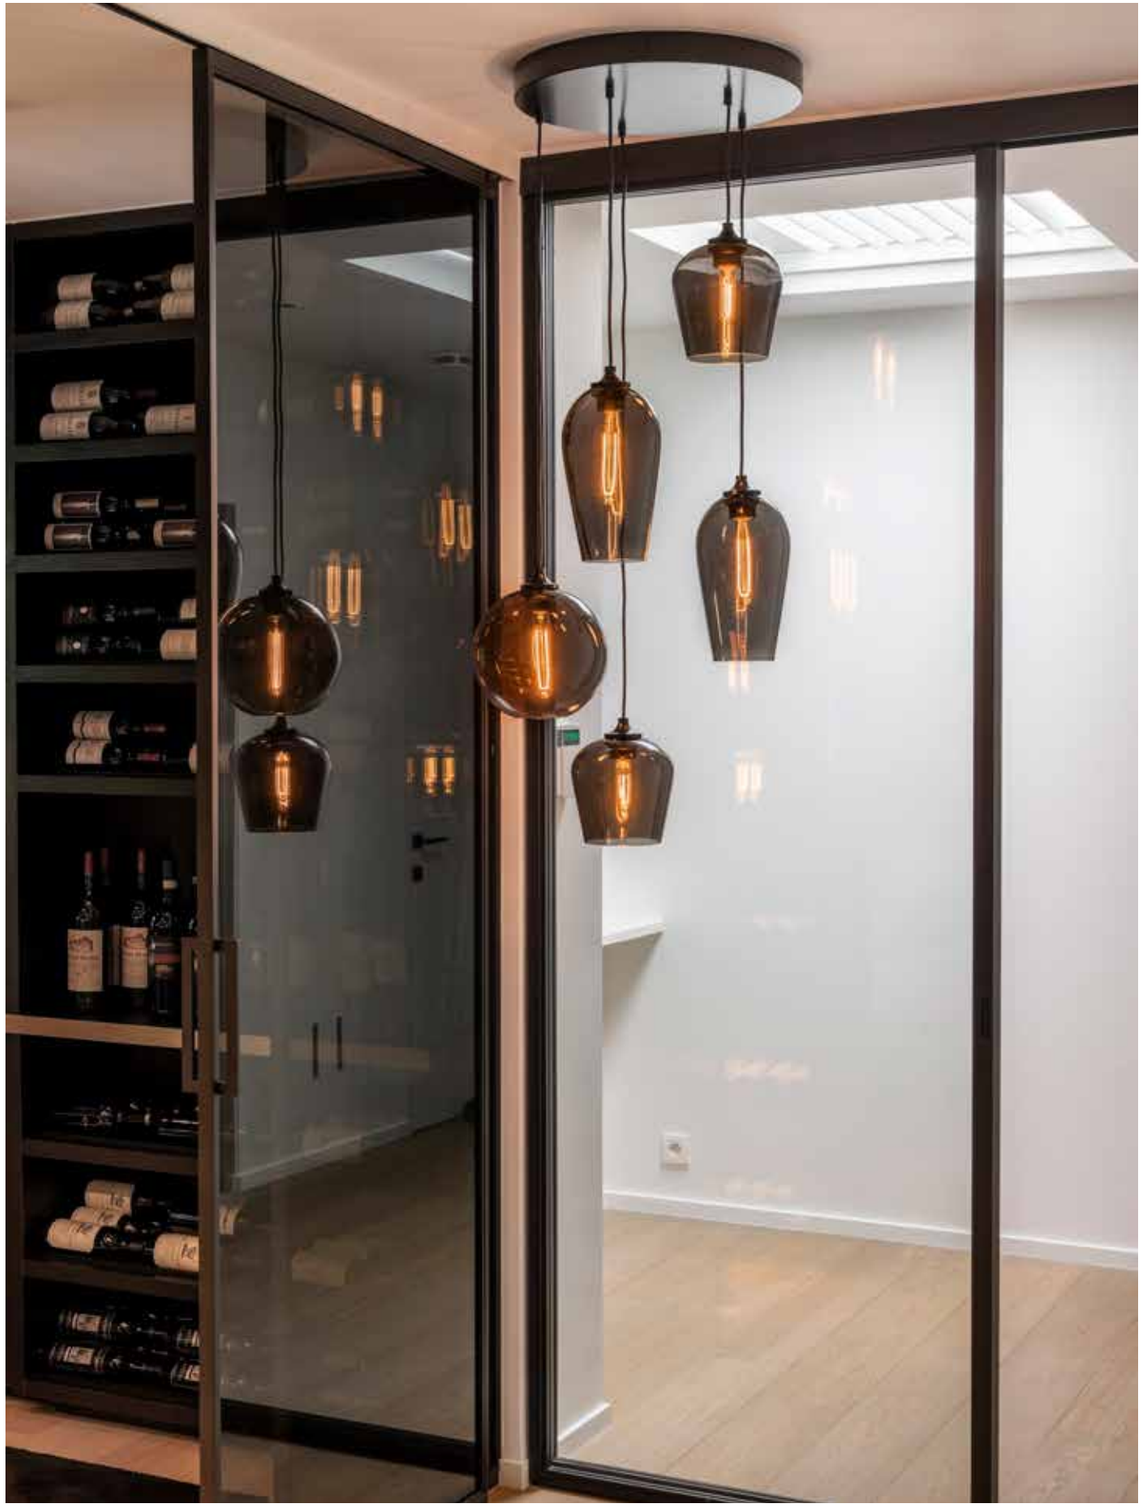
EVE Bulbs in Metallic Smoke combined with Maxi Balls

The Icons offer a nice contrast to the modern minimalist kitchen in which they are carefully positioned. Their round, organic shape offers a welcome break to the straight lines of the room and adds a pleasantly warm touch. These are custom-made models, which have been given a hint of gold at the customer's request. Working à la carte is essential to us. We always act according to our customers' wishes and go the extra mile to meet their personal wishes.



Creating an ensemble consisting of a number of lamps with the same shape was a fascinating challenge for us. In this particular instance we use standard ceiling plates to fix the lamps, but we also offer customised models, as well as our own Tentacles hanging solution. We adapt the size of the mount to fit in with the customers' tables and to meet their taste preferences. If you don't find what you are looking for in one of our five standard sizes, we will find a customised solution for you. And we will also adapt the composition of the lamp to meet your specific needs.

In this residential project, created by one of our dealers, customisation is the central axis of the project. The cornerstone of the project is the Tentacles solution, which is our own unique creation. It exudes a more industrial ambiance. Thanks to their original shape, our Maxi Bulbs can be used in a wide range of applications. These versatile lamps look great in both rural and modern interiors, in homes and business environments, as well as in cafes or restaurants.

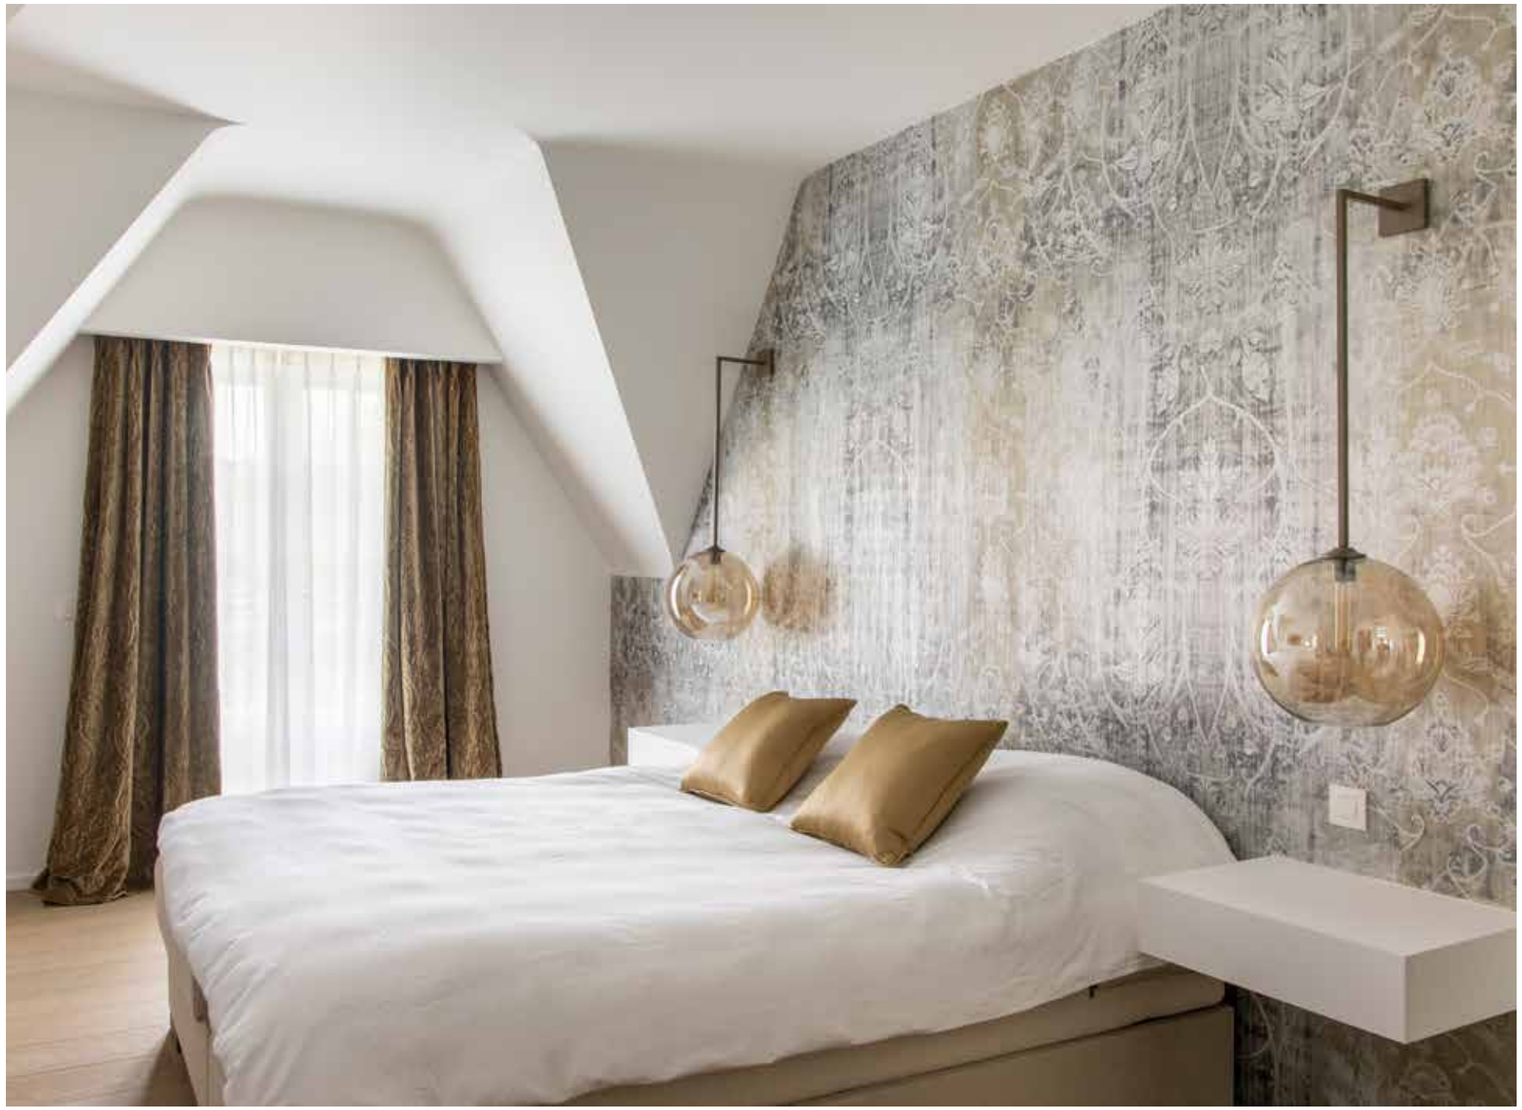
EVE Bulbs in Metallic Smoke



After the success of the Pendant lamp and by popular demand of our customers, we expanded our collection. The result is a selection of both wall lamps and floor/table lamps. Here you can see the first model from that collection, which is now a comprehensive range, with shapes and colours to suit everyone's taste.

My house is my refuge,
an emotional piece
of architecture,
not a cold piece of convenience.

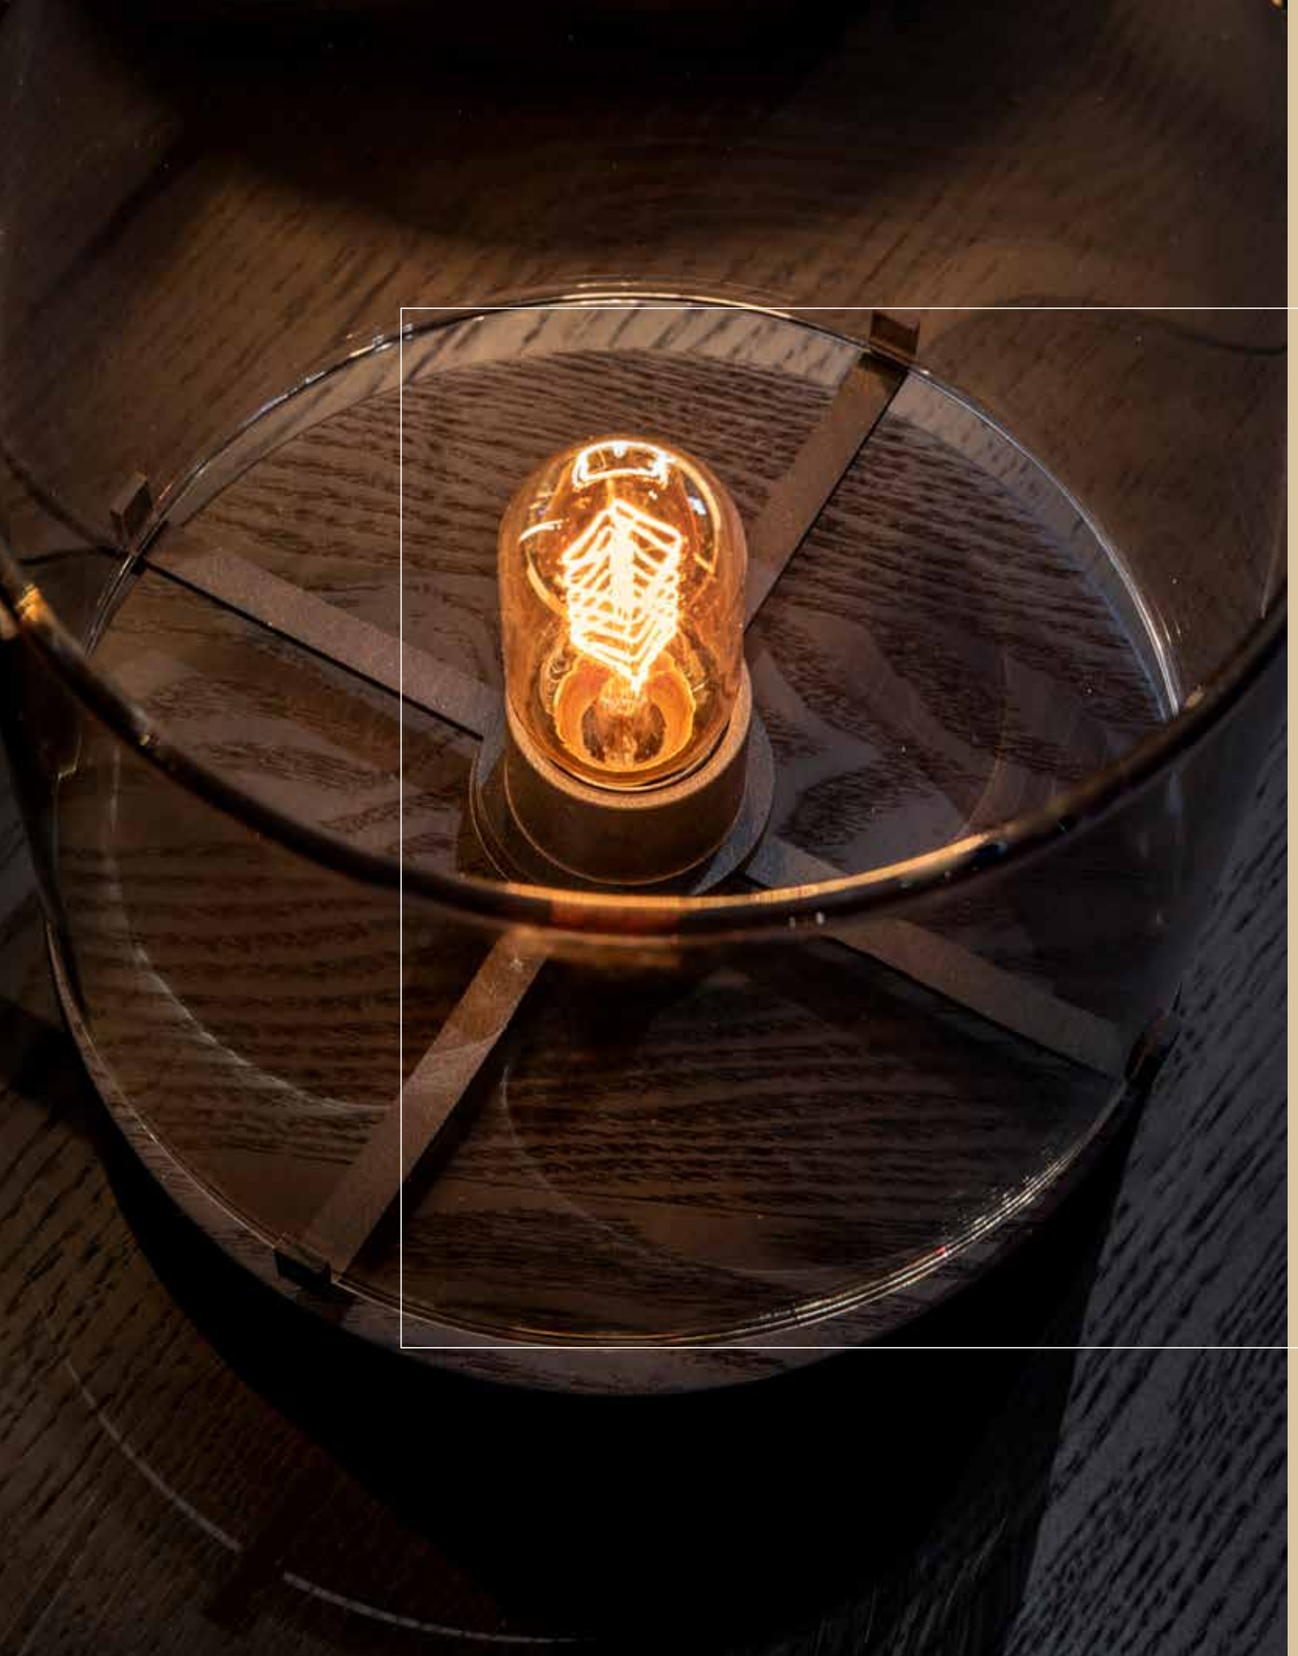
Customized Tentacle 5 Square with EVE Bulbs and Maxi Bulbs

Project: Lommers Wonen

Due to the overwhelming success of the Drum pendants, we created a table lamp version of the model in three variations. Customers can choose between a marble or wooden base, each available in a number of colours. They can also select their preferred glass from a range of four colours. Thanks to the wide range of possibilities, it is possible to compose items that are completely personalised to fit in with individual interiors. This is a typical hallmark of BY EVE.



Technical section

We are also able to create 3D designs based on the requirements of our customers. This gives them a realistic picture of what their purchase will ultimately look like once installed. This is extremely useful, because it is not always easy to visualise lamps and their fixtures when they are finally in place. So, because every customer, every lamp and every house is different, we produce a customised drawing. This service has been very popular among our customers, and the dealers that we work with also acknowledge the extremely useful advantages for them as they can incorporate the designs into the interior designs that they in turn offer their customers.

On the ceiling

BY EVE lighting is about atmosphere, atmosphere and more atmosphere. Lighting should occupy a central place in interiors. And there's nothing to stop them being eye-catching as well.

On the wall

These wall lamps were added to the collection to complement the pendant lamps. Anyone with a BY EVE pendant lamp can now add a matching wall-mounted luminaire that creates the same ambiance. Customers compose their own lamps and can choose between a wide range of colours.

On the floor

Organic, natural shapes and simplicity are the keywords of our collection. A concept that extends to our floor lamps as well. Our models speak for themselves, no need for frills. They stand out in all their essence and simplicity. This also explains why our lamps come into their own in all interiors.

On the table

With a table lamp, design and atmosphere take precedence over functionality. The overall picture has to be just right. The warm glow of our lamps emphasizes that soft mood.

Our motto, that applies to all our collections, and no more so than here, is that nothing is too much when it comes to meeting our customers' needs. We are passionate about what we do and will not shy away from any challenge, just the opposite in fact; we welcome challenges. In the case of a sloping ceiling for instance, we will provide a mounting solution that tilts at a number of degrees. In addition to the standard range, we offer endless possibilities according to your interior and preferences.
